

Note: Evaluators should have a suitable background to evaluate player skills and should not have a conflict of interest including being a current coach of the team or parent of a child.